Manahester Gobbles Up Home Team— A Slow Game, With Numerous and Costly Errors—Score 10-3.

A good sized crowd turned out Sat-unday atternoon on Windham field to witness the first game of the season of 1911 between the Manchesser and Wit-linathic baseball nines. Mayor D. P. Dunn officially opened up the game, speaking briefly at the plate before throwing the ball to the ampire, who was standing behind the pitcher. The game was nothing to speak of was standing behind the pitcher. The game was nothing to speak of, being slow and uninteresting, marked by many dumb plays that were heart-fending. The Manchester contingent was much more lively than the home crowd and took kindly to Coupalln's stants, he being decidedly off color and directly responsible for many of the runs. Hamel worked well behind him. At the commencement of the sixth inning Doyle and Casry, both local boys, took the firing and receiving end of the took the firing and receiving end of the game, and but one scant hit was secured off Doyle, who fanned seven Manchesters in the four innings. Casey supported him in fine shape. D'Andres at shortstop received a good hand when that time he was working under an assignment of Jan. 23d to the Willimantic Lumber and Coal company and the company was furnishing the money to pay the help. Some of the time of the men was made out by himself and time sheets were supplied the company regalarly and the company paid most of the help themselves.

Jan. 28, 1911, was the first time that they had paid the help and at the time there were three checks given him to pay the men who Judge Storrs did not have time to see. They were Joe Champion, Jere Haley and George Rich. He had no recollection of the Lynch check and did not think that he was working for him, as he had stop-Lynch check and did not think that he was working for him, as he had stopped working about Jan. 1. He did not think he owed Lynch anything on Jan. 23, as the books showed that Lynch had been paid off Dec. 31, which was as near as he knew the last day that he had worked for him. He did not know who made out the first payroil paid by the Willimantic Lumber and Coal company, but he thought that at that time had received a check for Mike Champion. He did not know whether he had the Lynch check in his possession or not.

Receipt Identified. Mr. Kelley showed him in the receipt book of the local company his receipt in his handwriting for the check. He was unable to state whether the initials in the book were his or not. He generally signed his initials "J. J. O'D." in place of "J. J. D." as the book showed. Enclored by Norwich Man.

Mr. O'Donovan then said about Jan. 28 he had given a time sheet to the Willimantic Lumber and Coal company, but if the name Joe Lynch appeared but if the name Joe Lynch appeared thereon it was a mistake. He admitted that the initials on the receipt book were a receipt for the payroll. The time book that he had brought into court ended Jan. 7 and the time sheets afterwards were sent to the Willimantic Lumber and Coal company and he was certain that Mr. Lynch did not work for him between Jan. 7 and Jan. 28.

Knights of Columbus representing councils in Norwich, New London, Wauregan, Danielson, Willimantic, Putnam and other places were guests of All Hallows' council at Moosup Sunday afternoon to witness the conferring of the degree of knighthood on a class of more than a score of candidates, the largest taken into All Hallows' council in years. The fine exemplification of the degree was under the direction of District Deputy P. J. Hurlihe of Willimantic, assisted by a degree team from San Jose council, No. 14, of that city. A number of addresses were made following the completion of the work. Refreshments were served.

STATE POLICE MADE FOUR LIQUOR RAIDS. Quantities of Beer and Whiskey Seized

-Four Arrests Made.

The state police put another crimp in proceedings that have to do with the keeping, reputation of so doing and selling of liquors illegally when they flashed into town Saturday night and commenced a series of raids that stirred the borough from its pre-Sabbath quiet. Four official visits were made by the unannounced visitors, three resulting in hauls of beer or whiskey. At the basement in the Evans building nineteen half pints and a case of beer were taken away and Eli Dagenias, formerly proprietor of the place, was arrested on a charge of interfering with the officers. He was later released on his own recognizance. Frank Auger, the man in charge, made a break when the officers appeared and managed to escape through a hole in the partition. He was arrested later, however, but on another and more serious charge, as told in the Putnam news this morning. Entrance through rious charge, as told in the Putnam news this morning. Entrance through the guarded doors of the basement was made possible to State Policemen Jackson of Willimantic, Bridgman of Hartford and John Egan of Wethersfield, by reason of the fact that they had with them one "Frank Wilson," who has been in town several weeks, working as a laborer, and also as a detective, and had gained a reputation at the basement as being "all right."

Beer Found at Home of George Terzis. George Terzis, a Greek, was another who landed in the drag net of the state officers. His home on the White Row was searched and a keg of beer taken away, as was Terzis also. He was locked up and remained at the police station until Sunday forencon, when he was released under $200 bonds furnished by friends. Two actual sales are said to be charged against him.

PICKED UP SNAKE. George Deady of Thompson Thought He Had Found a Horsewhip.

George Deady, a farm hand employed in the town of Thempson, has not been seeing snakes, but he has seen a snake, had it in his hand, in fact. He thought he had found a horsewhip He thought he had found a horsewhin when he saw the snake's tail sticking out of the grass beside the road' and picked it up. His snakeship—of the black kind and about five feet long—immediately colled itself about Deady's arm to the latter's horror. With the hideous head with wide open mouth stuck within a few inches of his fact the man's perves gave way and with stuck within a few inches of his face the man's nerves gave way and with a shriek of terror he ran toward the team in which his companion, Henry Pearl, was sitting. Deady cried out to Pearl to pull the snake off his arm; but Pearl was not much of a snake charmer, either, and his reply was a yell, followed by a leap to the ground. Cut off from all assistance, Deady collapsed and passed into an unconscious state. The snake then gracefully disentangled itself from the arm and glided into the bush. It was several minutes before Deady came horsewhips.

Anty Drudge-"Certainly. I'll donate a box of Fels-Naptha soap. Tell them to use it according to directions, and they will still be able to do washing, because the Fels-Naptha way banishes all the back breaking and hard rubbing of wash day; and cuts washday work in half."

Why do so many women who do their own work grow old before their time?

The weekly washing, they will tell you, is responsible for their breaking down. And they tell the absolute truth if they wash in the old-fashioned way.

Continual rubbing on the washboard is so bad on the back.

And standing over steaming suds paves the way for colds.
